

SENATE LAYS ASIDE TREATY AS THREE EFFORTS TO RATIFY FAIL

ADJOURNS LATE AT NIGHT UNTIL REGULAR SESSION OPENS DEC. 1

LEADERS SEE LITTLE HOPE FOR THE PACT

Democrats Try In Vain To Win Over Mild Reservationists

3 ROLL CALLS TAKEN

First Is 39-55 Against, Second
41-51 Against, And Final
38-53 Against

Washington, Nov. 19.—Failing after three attempts to ratify the peace treaty, the senate late tonight laid it aside, ended the special session by adjourning sine die at 11:08 o'clock, and went home.

The first vote taken on the Lodge resolution stood 39 for to 55 against.

On the second vote taken, after several hours of parliamentary wrangling in which the Democrats made vain efforts to win over some of the Republican group of mild reservationists, 41 senators voted in the affirmative and 51 in the negative.

The third vote was on a straight-out ratification without reservations which got only 38 votes to 53 opposing it. Only one Republican, Senator McCumber of North Dakota, voted with the Democrats in its support.

Lodge Calls Decision Final.

Republican Leader Lodge declared today's voting constituted a final decision on the peace treaty unless President Wilson circumvented the senate by withdrawing it and then submitting it again to the senate. In other quarters there was some difference of opinion, but the general sentiment seemed to be that there was only a slender chance that the treaty would come up at the beginning of the next session of congress in December.

One effect of the senate's failure to ratify the treaty will be the continuation of various war-time laws and regulations at least until the new session begins. Among these is the war-time prohibition act.

The resolution presented tonight to declare a state of peace will come up at the beginning of the new session and it is expected to start another stubborn fight. The administration is understood to be opposed to such a method of legally ending the war, and on the background is a constitutional question as to whether congress can do so by a resolution not requiring the president's signature.

May Feel Out Other Powers.

It was suggested tonight among Democratic senators that President Wilson might be asked during the recess to feel out the other powers as to their attitude on reservations with the idea of bringing the treaty to some sort of a ratification after congress recesses.

The second vote on the majority's ratification resolution was made possible by the mild reservationists, who voted with the Democrats to get the measure before the senate and thus have an opportunity for an eleventh-hour compromise proposition. Once that had been accomplished, however, the mild group held out against all efforts of the Democrats to put in their substitute reservations, so that when the second vote was reached after several hours of sparring, the situation was unchanged.

The resolution for ratification without reservation was put in by Senator Underwood, Democrat of Alabama, for the second defeat of the other treaty. It was held in order and read upon without debate, but when Senator Fittman, Democrat of Nevada, sought to get action on another resolution containing interpretative reservations the treaty consideration was cut short by a point of order of Republican Leader Lodge.

It was on a viva voce vote that the treaty, after being before the senate for many weeks, then was laid aside. Senator Lodge's motion to take up legislation no roll call was requested.

Passengers Refuse To Pay Double Car Fare

New York, Nov. 19.—Refusal of scores of passengers to pay a second fare today on the Flatbush avenue line of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit company, after the public service commission had decided the company had no right to charge a double fare, led to disturbances which necessitated calling police reserves.

Attempts to eject men and women from the cars resulted in several fights. A few policemen tried to hold the angry crowd in check, but cries of "Lynch the inspectors" caused a hurry call for reserves. The police remained neutral in the trouble.

The company's attorney declared tonight that the company "will refuse to accept or obey the order of the commission," although a copy of the order has not been received.

Treaty is Dead, Says Lodge.

Senator Lodge, after adjournment tonight, declared "the treaty is dead so far as this senate is concerned."

Republican leaders said the senate need not advise the President of its action nor return the treaty to him with formal notice.

"The President may withdraw it when the senate reconvenes," Senator Lodge said, "and, of course, he can then resubmit it in the next session. But the treaty is dead in this senate and they killed it as I told them they would if they voted against it."

Senator Hitchcock said the treaty was not dead and that he presumed the President would resubmit it on December 1, although he had no definite word from the President to that effect. He said he thought the Republicans had worked themselves "into a very awkward position," and had "split themselves in the senate and in the country."

Before adjourning, the senate confirmed a number of nominations, but deferred action until the next session on that of John Skelton Williams, to be controller of the currency.

All compromise efforts to bring about ratification failed, the three resolutions of ratification all going down by overwhelming majorities. The Republican leaders, apparently despairing of bringing two-thirds of the senate together for any sort of ratification, then put in a resolution to declare the war at an end.

Two of the three ratification votes were taken on the resolution drafted by the Republican majority, containing reservations which President Wilson had told Democratic senators in a letter earlier in the day would mean nullification of the treaty. On each of the votes, most of the Democratic supporters of the treaty voted against ratification.

The ratification resolution, which would have required a two-thirds majority for adoption, mustered only 29 votes to 55 against it. Its supporters were 35 Republicans and 4 Democrats, and its opponents 13 Republicans and 42 Democrats.

The result was to place the treaty in a parliamentary status which its enemies declared amounted at least to temporary rejection. Its friends, however, had hopes of reviving it at another session of congress.

After the ratification vote, the Republicans permitted their resolution in exactly the form rejected to come up for further consideration, but as the session extended into the evening, the solid Republican line-up which had held throughout the day against repeated Democratic compromise proposals showed no signs of yielding.

As on the previous roll call, the Democratic senators on the second roll on the Lodge reservations lined up almost without defection against ratification.

The vote on the second rejection of the Lodge resolution was 41 for adoption and 51 against, less than the requisite two-thirds and also less than a majority.

Thirty-four Republicans and seven Democrats, Gore, Myers, Owen, Tompkins, Shields, Smith of Georgia, Trammell, and Walsh of Massachusetts, voted for adoption.

The opposing Democrats were joined by 13 Republicans, Borah, Brandegee, Fernald, France, Gronna, Johnson of California, Knox, LaFollette, McCormick, Moses, Norris, Poindexter and Sherman.

As soon as the Lodge resolution was voted down the second time, the senate began voting on an unreserved ratification resolution presented by Senator Underwood, Democrat of Alabama.

Unreserved ratification also was defeated, the mild reservation Republicans voting against it.

The vote rejecting unqualified ratification was 38 for adoption and 53 against. Advocates of unqualified ratification included 37 Democrats and one Republican, Senator McCumber.

Seven Democrats, Gore, Reed, Shields, Smith of Georgia, Thomas, Trammell, and Walsh of Massachusetts, voted with the Republicans in opposition.

Republican Leader Lodge declared that under the rules the senate action was final unless the treaty was withdrawn and then resubmitted by the President. The Democratic leaders did not agree with him.

After disposing of the treaty, Senator Lodge introduced a resolution proposing that congress declare the war with Germany at an end. The resolution was referred to the foreign relations committee.

The resolution, which requires assent of the house, declared that the actual hostilities of the German government recited in the American declaration of war, had ceased, that an armistice had been signed, and proposed that congress declare that the "state of war is hereby declared at an end."

Senator Hitchcock sought to offer a set of compromise reservations but a point of order by Republican Leader Lodge blocked him. Vice President Marshall ruled that the reservations were in order and that the treaty, by the reconsideration, had been brought back into the committee of the whole. Senator Lodge appealed from the ruling. By a party vote of 51 to 41, the decision of the chair was overruled.

The vote having established that the treaty was in the senate itself and not in committee as a whole, Senator Hitchcock offered a resolution of unreserved ratification against which Senator Poindexter, Republican of Washington, made a point of order. The Vice President overruled the objection and an appeal was again taken.

The senate again overruled the chair. By a vote of 50 to 43 the senate overruled the vice president's ruling that amendments to the Lodge reservations might be presented. Senator McCumber, Republican of North Dakota, voted with the Democrats to sustain the vice president and Senators Gore, Reed and Shields voted with the Republicans against.

Senator McCumber moved to strike out the requirement that the reservations must be accepted by other powers. Senator Lodge made a point of order which Vice President Marshall overruled and another appeal was taken to the senate.

With the same lineup as before, the senate again overruled the vice president's ruling, thus cutting off the McCumber motion. The vote was 50 to 43.

After the two votes cutting off amendments proposed by the Democrats, a parliamentary dispute developed in which Senator Robinson, Democrat of Arkansas, declared that the majority had trampled on the senate rules. Senator Lenroot, Republican of Wisconsin, denied the charge and declared that the practice followed and the votes taken were sustained by all precedent. Senator Lenroot added that amendment of reservations could be reached by a motion to reconsider each separate reservation.

Blame for the present situation in the senate was placed upon Republicans by Senator Underwood, Democrat of Alabama, who called upon them to go to the country with the "assimilated issue" and said there would be no question of the people's verdict. While the Alabama senator was speaking, Senator Swanson, Democrat of Virginia, was busily engaged in conferences on the floor with Senator Lodge and Senator Watson. In an apparent eleventh-hour attempt to bring about a compromise.

Senator Underwood said that the American people demand peace at the hands of the senate.

"This side of the chamber," he said, "is not responsible to the country for the action the senate may take. The control is in the hands of the Republicans. The Republican party is responsible to the people for the peace of the nation. What a spectacle is presented to the nation tonight by the way the Republicans are exercising the power trusted to them by the people of the United States."

Senator Underwood said that the Lodge resolution in the vote taken upon it tonight received only a little more than one-third of the membership, the vote being, he said, a repudiation of the exercise of power by the Republicans. He criticized the "parliamentary license" by which they were able to bring a repudiated resolution before the senate and charged that an attempt was being made to drive an unwilling majority to accept the dictates of a small minority.

COAL FAMINE LOOMS NEARER

Strike Negotiations Between Operators And Miners Apparently At A Standstill

GARFIELD'S WARNING

Fuel Administrator Asserts That People "Must Have Coal And Will Have Coal"

Washington, Nov. 19.—Prospects of a coal famine drew nearer tonight with negotiations between operators and miners apparently at a standstill.

A sub-committee of the joint wage scale committee was in session three hours, but it was announced after the meeting that only the general situation was discussed and that the operators did not submit counter proposals to the miners' demands. The conference will continue tomorrow.

"No progress was made. The operators submitted no proposal. We are still in a receptive mood," said John L. Lewis, acting president of the United Mine Workers of America.

The operators' committee remained in session an hour longer. At the end of that time Thomas T. Brewster, chairman of the operators' committee in the central competitive field, spoke optimistically, declaring that this was the first attempt at real negotiations since the miners and operators met at Buffalo. For that reason, he said, only general matters were discussed.

The decision of the joint wage scale conference to continue its negotiations through a smaller group, in accordance with the usual custom of making the wage agreements, came after the owners and workers had heard from Fuel Administrator Garfield that as long as the government stands, "the people of the United States need, must have, and will have coal, and they will not be prevented by anything the operators and miners may do."

The consuming public, the chief party in the present controversy, Dr. Garfield said, is not in a mood to tolerate either excessive prices or prolonged stoppage of production.

Hines Continues Conference.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—The growing menace of the coal situation was the subject today of further discussion by Walker D. Hines, federal director general of railroads, and seven regional directors. Possible action included a further reduction in passenger train service and shutting off coal from non-essential industries.

"What we will consider is what means can be employed by elimination of consumption except where it is indispensable, to conserve our coal reserve," said Mr. Hines.

Meanwhile reports from virtually all sources were of a vanishing supply of bituminous coal as the approximately 400,000 miners remained firm in their disposition to await announcement of an agreement by the apparently deadlocked miners-operators' conference at Washington. Of the great union fields, only West Virginia reported an appreciable amount of fuel brought out, it being said 75 per cent of the mines in that state were being operated.

An immediate prospect of a declaration of military control in the mining districts of Iowa, with state operation of mines, a strike of returned miners in Wyoming, said to have been due mainly to activities of radicals, and withdrawal of federal troops from West Virginia marked main developments in the mining districts during the last 24 hours. Use of state soldiers in Wyoming was threatened by the governor unless efforts of radicals to intimidate miners who desired to work ceased.

The regional directors generally informed Mr. Hines that the railroads had sufficient fuel for several days, the statement of the central west director being an exception.

No general freight embargo will be considered, Mr. Hines said, adding that restricting the fuel supply of non-essential industries in itself would sharply curtail freight shipments.

Cleveland Feels the Pinch.

Cleveland, Nov. 19.—Every industrial plant in this city, with the exception of those coming under the load of "public utilities," was cut off from its coal supply late today by the Cleveland coal commission in an effort to reflect the acute fuel situation here. Several plants will be forced to stop and many others will be able to operate only in part as a result of the order, according to J. C. Brainerd, chairman of the industrial division of the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce. Retail coal dealers were ordered not to sell any of their supply to manufacturing

Warns Against Possible Bomb Outrages This Xmas

Philadelphia, Nov. 19.—A warning issued today by the superintendent of the Philadelphia police that information had reached him of possible bomb outrages at Christmas time by the sending of gift packages to national, state and city officials throughout the country, has caused federal and state officials to take extra precautions to circumvent any proposed plots by radicals or others.

John Robinson, the superintendent, said tonight he had nothing further to say regarding the warning he issued today. The information he has in his possession, the superintendent said, came to him in the course of investigation by the police bomb squad into the activities of local radicals.

plants without first securing the consent of the committee.

"The situation is much more acute than we expected," said E. R. Bissell, federal coal director for the Cleveland district. There is barely enough coal on hand to supply the demands of the five classes named for preference by the government. If conditions remain unchanged until the first of the year the city will be completely paralyzed industrially."

Strike in Colorado.

Denver, Col., Nov. 19.—Colorado's coal production will be curtailed tomorrow by a second strike of the United Mine Workers of America. Efforts today to effect a settlement failed.

"The strike order stands," declared George O. Johnson, president of the union at Pueblo.

"The men will not obey the strike call," declared Colorado fuel and iron company officials.

Postponement in West Virginia.

Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 19.—The coal strike situation in the unionized southern mining districts of West Virginia took on a more serious aspect tonight when reports were received from the New River coal fields showing that hundreds of miners had walked out, closing a number of mines which had been operating since the resending of the strike order.

According to the reports, the men began quitting work today following notification by the mine superintendents of the various companies to the effect that the "check-off" system had been abolished because the miners had abrogated their contract by participating in the strike of November 1. The new strike is reported to be spreading throughout the New River district.

LABOR CONFERENCE APPROVES CHILD LABOR AGREEMENT PLAN

Washington, Nov. 19.—Unanimous approval was given today by the International Labor conference to the plan of submitting to the governments represented an international agreement regarding child labor and fixing minimum wages of employment.

For all countries except Japan, India, and a few others in the Orient, the agreement would prohibit any child being put to work under 14 years old. The age fixed for Japan and India is 12 years.

The employment of women in industries where the materials used might be detrimental to maternity was disapproved by the conference in the adoption of the report of a committee on "unhealthy processes."

AGAINST SEX DISCRIMINATION.

Albany, Nov. 19.—The State Civil Service commission today adopted a resolution which would do away with sex discrimination in the matter of appointments except in certain cases to be specified by the commission. In the past, the power largely has rested with the appointing officer. The resolution will go to Governor Smith for his approval.

Adoption of the resolution came after a four-hour hearing at which some opposition was expressed to the proposal for sex equality.

EGYPTIAN NATIVES KILLED.

Cairo, Egypt, Nov. 19.—(Havas.)—Eleven natives were killed and 60 wounded yesterday by British troops who opened fire on a crowd which besieged the police station during the course of a demonstration. Ten of the wounded are reported to be in a serious condition. The demonstrations were continued today but in an orderly manner.

GENEVA BANKER DIES.

Geneva, Nov. 19.—James E. Brown, president of the Geneva Savings bank, died tonight of injuries received late today in an automobile accident. Dr. George Zera was fatally injured. Cars driven by Brown and Zera collided

CITY'S CHARMS DAZZLE PRINCE

Youthful British Heir Takes In Everything From Churches To "Movies"

THOUSANDS CHEER HIM

"Nothing Like It," He Declares On Viewing New York From Woolworth Tower

New York, Nov. 19.—From skyscrapers to churches and from the stock market to the "movies," with the house show as a side line, the Prince of Wales was whirled today in a kaleidoscopic view of the varied activities of the metropolis. Everywhere he went huge crowds cheered him to the echo, giving him a reception such as New York has rarely if ever witnessed before.

The prince seemed to enjoy every minute of his strenuous program, but, judging by appearances, the hit of the day for him was the movies.

The exhibition was given at the old Academy of Music, where his grandfather had been a guest 60 years ago at the historic "Diamond Ball." Seated in the same armchair Edward VII had occupied, the prince laughed with the unrestrained enthusiasm of an unsophisticated schoolboy at the comedies presented. He had asked for "something to laugh at" and he got it. It was slapstick comedy of the most slapstick kind, with the hero chased in rivers, smeared with pie, bitten by dogs, and buffed by goats, and the infectious laugh of the young prince set the whole great audience rocking.

Visits the Horse Show.

At the entrance to the theatre, the prince was greeted by 15 pretty girls dressed in the quaint costume of pre-war time, who courted after the fashion of their grandmothers. The management of the theatre also had managed to collect 15 survivors of the original Diamond Ball, who were presented to the grandson of the prince they had met to honor in their youth.

From the theatre, the prince drove to Madison Square Garden, where he was the guest at the horse show of Commander Eva Booth, of the Salvation Army, the famous show this year being a benefit performance for its services during the war. The royal party passed to its box through double lines of Salvation lassies, who were no whit behind the more worldly spectators in the warmth of their greeting to the boyish prince. After spending a few minutes chatting with Commander Booth, the prince left his box and entered the ring, where he watched the jumping contest.

Leaving the garden, the prince paid a brief visit to the New York Yacht club.

Take Walk by Himself.

On his return to the Waldorf hotel, the prince stole a march on both the crowds who had trailed his every movement and the small army of newspaper reporters who have formed his unofficial bodyguard. Slipping out from a side entrance of the hotel, he went for a quiet stroll on Fifth avenue unattended except by a couple of secret service men. He passed practically unrecognized through the tremendous tide of traffic which swept down the avenue in the evening homeward rush. One of a couple of girls gave his identity away by calling out, "Why, there's the prince!" but her companion ridiculed her guess and before she could argue the point the prince was swallowed up in the crowd.

Tonight the prince was the guest of honor at a banquet given by the various British societies of New York. Later in the evening he attended a ball given by Mrs. Whitelaw Reid.

"You stand for us as the living symbol of the spirit of youth. You represent the young manhood of the coming generation, which is the hope of the world."

Thus did President John Grier Hibben of Princeton university address the Prince of Wales at the dinner tonight.

Asserting that this is the spirit of youth that now must give life to the dead things about us, and "inspire a new vigor to the living," President Hibben added:

"Today Great Britain and America are alike rushing blindly into a new epoch in which the clear way of justice is concealed."

Seen City from Skyscraper.

Early in the day the prince paid a visit to the Woolworth building where from a height of 750 feet he had a bird's-eye view of the city.

"It is wonderful," exclaimed the prince. "There can be nothing else in the world like it."

Returning to earth the Prince was escorted to Trinity church, where his grandfather worshipped 60 years ago.

HOUSE ADJOURNS AFTER BUSY 6-MONTH SESSION

Engages In Post-Mortem Inquiry Into Own Proceedings In Overriding Dry Veto

Washington, Nov. 19.—Six months to the day after congress convened in special session, the house formally adjourned at 4:02 p. m. today, after receiving word from President Wilson that he did not object to this. The adjournment resolution was adopted by a vote of 55 to 5.

Only a short recess will be possible as congress will reconvene in regular session December 1. Many house members had left for home, however, before the formal adjournment and only 60 were present when the committee sent to inform the President of the situation returned with word that he had no objections to adjournment.

"The committee was told that the President had signed the resolutions passed yesterday legalizing the creation of an equipment trust to pay the government for cars and locomotives bought for the railroads during federal control and also that for continuing the government control of dye imports until January 15. This cleared the slate."

Mr. Mondell inserted a statement in the record declaring that 70 bills had been enacted during the special session, the appropriation measures totaling $2,828,283,432, or a decrease of $940,610,588 from estimates made at the last session of congress. Enforcement of national prohibition, extension of the food control act, the outrage amendment, and the return of telephone and telegraph lines to private control were enumerated.

"In addition," the statement said, "the house has considered and passed measures of great importance which the senate, engrossed in the treaty, has had no time to consider."

Pending final action on adjournment the house engaged in a post-mortem inquiry into its own proceedings in overriding President Wilson's veto of the prohibition enforcement bill.

Representative Kitchin said the house had been "stampeded" into a vote, the program of leaders to defer action two hours having been changed without warning, preventing many members from being present.

"But the result would have been the same, if all members had been present," he added.

Republican Leader Mondell conceded the change in plans resulted from a stampede.

Representative Hastings said the "friends of prohibition got their heads together" to force an immediate vote.

"How do you account for the most insistent 'wets' being for an immediate vote?" asked Mr. Mondell.

"Those 'wets' thought they could sustain the veto," rejoined Mr. Hastings.

JURY IN REFORMATORY CRUELTY CASE FAILS TO REACH DECISION

White Plains, Nov. 19. The jury in the case of Ruth Carter, an inmate of the Bedford reformatory charged with assaulting a woman attendant disagreed, and was discharged by Judge Frank L. Long today. Testimony during the trial disclosed disciplinary measures used by attendants including "the cold water cure," which will be rigidly investigated by order of Governor Smith.

"The Bedford reformatory is not a trial, nor any officer of the reformatory," Judge Long said in charging the jury. Miss Carter did not testify during the trial but the judge cautioned the jury that this fact should not sway its judgment.

NEW BILLIARD CHAMPION.

Cleveland, Nov. 19.—R. L. Cannell of New York is the new three-cushion billiard champion of America. He acquired the title tonight through the defeat of Charles McCourt of Cleveland, by Pierre Maupome of Milwaukee, 50 to 48, in 55 innings.

He was welcomed by the sector, Rev. William T. Manning, and the members of the vestry.

The Prince occupied the same pew in which his grandfather had sat two generations before. In a brief address Dr. Manning welcomed him as the representative of "the great free empire of Britain, which has borne so glorious a part in the world war and with whose sons our own have fought side by side for right and freedom."

On leaving the church the Prince visited in turn the stock exchange, the sub-treasury and the produce exchange. At the sub-treasury he showed keen interest in machines used for the detection of spurious coins. At his request he was given a false five dollar gold piece which he showed to a handful of valid money and which he could not detect. The expert proved he was out in a few seconds.

MARKET CONTINUES DOWNWARD COURSE

Forces Of Reaction Again in Undisputed Control; Money
 Eases Slightly

New York, Nov. 19. — The forces
 of reaction were again in undisputed control of the stock market today. Recurrent liquidation in large volume caused further severe depreciation of quoted values, speculative shares
 showing extreme losses of 5 to 25 points.

There was little in the day's developments to offer hope of comfort to the bull element, apart from the decision of the local Federal Reserve bank to make no change in existing rates of re-discount.

Call loans were "pegged" at 12 per cent until the last half hour, when the rate dropped to 10. With this indication of money ease, came the first material change of the session, a few
 stocks showing marked strength,
 while others were variable, but mostly moderate recoveries.

Events bearing on securities values
 merely stressed the many adverse conditions which beset the financial commodity of the world. Exchange
 on London and Continental Europe
 continued to break with the approach
 of a vote on the peace treaty.

Respecting the stock market itself,
 well-informed and conservative interests at this and other financial centers
 are evidently in accord with the belief
 that recovery from the present upheaval is likely to be of slow growth.

Opinion differed widely as to the proportion of long and short selling during today's feverish session, but there was little doubt that short covering by the bears contributed largely to the rebound at the close.

American Tobacco was weakest of today's issues, losing 20 points. Receptions of 3 to 13 points in motors
 and their subsidiaries, oils, steels,
 equipments, and shippings, and from 5 to 10 points in unclassified specialties, measured the extent of the extreme decline elsewhere. Sales amounted to 1,500,000 shares.

Enormous liquidation of Liberty bonds, including tax-exempt issues at new low records, unsettled the bond market. Total sales, par value, aggregated $17,650,000. Old United States bonds were unchanged on call.

STATE GRANGE MASTER TO SPEAK

Annual Meeting of Delaware County Farmers' Organization to be Held in Walton on December 2.

The annual meeting of the Delaware
 County Pomona grange will be held with the Walton grange on Wednesday, December 2. In the morning will occur the biennial election of officers
 and the election of delegates to the state grange. The principal speaker for the afternoon public session will be S. J. Lowell of Fredonia, master of the state grange. In the evening
 there will be installation of officers by
 the district deputy, conferring of fifth
 degree and the lecturers' program.

Epworth League District Convention.

The Oneonta district Epworth league convention will be held on Friday of this week at Bainbridge, where ample preparation has been made for entertainment of the delegates. Many pastors and workers will participate in the exercises. Sessions will be held at 10:30 a. m., 2 p. m., and 7:30 p. m.
 Officers for the ensuing year will be elected and a constructive program
 formulated. All interested are invited and each league is urged to send a large delegation. The Bainbridge pastor, Rev. R. F. Lesh, will be glad to know of those expecting to attend.

County Fire Insurance Agents to Meet.

There will be a joint meeting of the fire insurance agents of this county
 and the Otsego County District committee of the Underwriters' association
 of New York state, at the Municipal building Tuesday morning, November 25, at 11 o'clock. At this meeting
 there will be a general discussion of the fire insurance business.

Philathen Class Meets.

The Young Ladies' Philathen class of the First Baptist church met last evening at the home of Miss Mabel Ackart, 13 Central avenue. The regular monthly business session was held
 which was followed by refreshments.
 The meeting was largely attended, the evening proving both instructive and entertaining.

THE STATE'S FINANCES.

For a long time there has been discussion of the problem of the state's finances and much questioning as to why the expenses of the commonwealth year after year shoot up without any appreciable gain in efficiency
as a result thereof. Many reasons have been given or suggested, but perhaps the most satisfactory, reasonable and adequate one is that of late given consideration, which is that as a going business the state of New York has too many department heads,
that there is no co-ordination of activities, and that it is not upon such
a basis as would for a minute be considered satisfactory in a commercial enterprise. The reconstruction commission of the state has had the matter under consideration for the past year, and in its recent report many
matters of interest to the taxpayers,
who in the end pay the bills, are brought to light.

"How many people," it asks,
"would buy stock in a corporation
which had 188 different departments,
many of them working independently
of the others, many of them absolutely
beyond the supervision or control
of the concern's president, many of them spending the company's money
according to their own ideas, and
little groups of them doing over again
a job that needed to be done only once?"

"Every taxpayer in the state of New York is a stockholder in just such a concern—the government of the state.

"The reconstruction commission,
appointed by Governor Smith, finds,
after an exhaustive survey, that the government of this state, which costs
more to run than any other state government in America, is still being conducted largely under the system of Civil War days. The commission recommends that the state administration be placed on a Twentieth century, business-like basis.

"No man could keep in close touch with 188 different departments and no private concern president would attempt it. The commission recommends that the 188 state departments,
commissions and agencies be reorganized into twenty."

"In private business departments
do no work independently of one another, but all together toward a common goal—under the leadership of the general manager. A governor of New York is a general manager of the state's business affairs in theory
only. Many of the 188 departments are at present utterly beyond the governor's authority or supervision.

"In private business no general manager could be expected to conduct a concern economically unless he had something to say about how his assistants expended the firm's funds. Yet a governor of New York is powerless to supervise the expenditure of the taxpayers' money by many of the state departments.

"Stockholders of a private corporation could not look for the best results from the general manager unless he was able to discharge assistants who fell down on the job or
spent the firm's money wastefully.
Yet a governor neither appoints
many department heads in the first place nor has the power to remove them from office if they fail to make good.

"Stockholders of a private concern
would not tolerate various departments doing over again a job that needed to be done only once. Yet the taxpayers of New York state are permitting the continued existence of state departments whose duties overlap. There are at present no less than twenty-two departments having
to do with the management of prisons, asylums, charitable institutions,
etc. There are seven different departments assessing and collecting taxes, more than ten of an engineering nature and eleven having legal functions.

"The reconstruction commission
proposes not only to cut the number of departments but also that the governor be given actual supervision of the fewer number. Under the proposed plan a governor would have the appointment of the heads of the twenty departments and could remove any who proved inefficient.

"Under such a plan a governor
would become in that the business manager of the state's business; it would really be within his power to give an economical administration—
if he didn't the public could place its finger on the one man to blame.

"No business except one whose revenue comes from the bottomless
well, the taxpayers' pockets, could stand the ancient, inefficient and wasteful system under which the business affairs of the state are now being conducted.

"It is time for the people to assert
that the mill does have a bottom."

When Women Go to Parliament.
If Wisconsin's state is elected for Plymouth, what sort of hat will she wear in the House? In view of such a contingency, a well-known firm of hatters some time ago designed a headpiece for women M. P.'s. The hat,
I believe, was something like a Mushy's in shape, but with a lower crown and a wider brim.—(Westminster Gazette.)

Millions in Ice Cream.

Who would have thought, forty or fifty years ago, that in 1919 a thousand ice cream manufacturers would meet in convention in an American city, and that the total American investment in the making of that cold
confection would amount to more than $200,000,000? As recorded by states, however, the manufacturers
come from the eastern rather than the western part of the country. There are also state associations of ice cream manufacturers; a wide development since the time when the Deacon, in Oliver Wendell Holmes's story of "Elsie Venner," was so unfamiliar with the dish that he "treated his ice cream as a pudding of a

Penny Wise, Pound Foolish.

Within one year 2,000 officers have resigned from the regular army, nearly all of them because of the small
pay. This is an irreparable loss to the army, for many calets at West Point have also resigned and on November 3 the adjutant general reported 503 vacancies at the military academy. If the pay is not increased where are competent officers for the regular army coming from?
It is a penny wise and pound foolish
policy to keep the pay much lower than the remuneration for their services these men can get in civil life.

These tubercular children on the roof of the Vanderbilt Clinic had to be urged to leave their play

reason for their hesitation, in this instance, was a lesson in occupa-

RED CROSS COUNTY CHAIRMEN

Conference at Utica Today to Plan
Christmas Seal Sale—Hon. L. P.
Butts Represents Oneonta.

Utica, Nov. 19.—County chairmen
of the Christmas seal campaign, living in the vicinity of Utica, will meet at the court house tomorrow (Thursday)
at 1:30 p. m., to plan for the sale of seals which begins December 1.

The chairmen in this section of the state include: Hon. J. P. Hill, Norwich, for Chenango county; Charles Allison, Malone, for Franklin county;
J. P. Mulhall, Utica, for Oneonta county;
and Hon. LaVern Butts, Oneonta,
for Otsego county.

Charles S. Prest, district campaign
director, and Frank Kiernan, field worker for the Tuberculosis committee
of the State Charities Aid association,
will be present and final plans will be made for the campaign which is to be carried on by the method of personal solicitation and by sending of Christmas seal letters.

The quota for New York state, outside of New York city, is $582,000. Approximately 80 per cent of the amount raised will be expended in localities
where contributed. Carefully prepared programs for next year's battle against tuberculosis have been formulated and endorsed by the State Tuberculosis
committee and the National Tuberculosis association.

CENSUS JOBS FOR EX-SOLDIERS

Re-Employment Bureau Asks Supervisors to Give Them Preference.

New York, Nov. 19.—Local census
supervisors throughout the country
are asked to give preference to former service men in engaging census takers
in an appeal issued last night by Maj.
Warren Bigelow, director of the re-
employment bureau. "While this work will be only temporary," Maj. Bigelow declared, "it would help hundreds of men who have been unable to get jobs in civilian life.

Applications of 5,000 former service men are on file at the bureau. During the past six months the bureau has placed 15,000 of the 41,400 men who called for positions. Attention is called to the fact that a number of post ones are desired for disabled men who were killed, shell shocked or injured in the fighting overseas.

The Joyce stores are showing 15
styles of golden oak buffets, new stock
of rugs, and the store is crowded with bargains in furniture of all kinds.

"PUSSYTOOT" CHENANGO MAN.

Johnson, American Prohibitionist in England, Born in McDonough.

Newspaper dispatches for the past few days have been telling about William E. (Pussyfoot) Johnson, the American prohibitionist whose campaign was rudely interrupted in England by a band of students, but it was not known until Monday that this man, who has commanded the biggest headlines in the newspapers of the country, is a native of Chenango county.

Mr. Johnson was born on a farm
between Smithville and McDonough,
and he is well known in that section
and in many other parts of the country, according to information
reaching this office. In fact Johnson has many relatives in Norwich and other parts of the country, who are prominent people in their respective communities.

Although he has not been a resident of Chenango county for 30 years or more he is well remembered by many people, who were attracted to him by his peculiar characteristics. In fact,
the general opinion of the headline
writers in the papers view him as "a good sport."

Some Other Reason.

The people who argue that prohibition is responsible for the numerous strikes in this country may be able to explain why Great Britain's strike evil
is much worse than that in the United States, and over in England the workingmen have not been deprived of their beer, and prohibition laws are not in force. The labor unrest in England is much more serious than
in this country.—(Utica Press)

D. A. Trinkno, having decided to occupy his hotel property in Milford
Village, will sell the Junction property,
including 25-room house, six vacant
lots large garage and outbuildings,
which will accommodate at least 20
automobiles. Will sell the entire property or any portion of it. advt ft

ENGLAND TO AMERICA.

Splendid Story Well Rendered Yesterday by Normal Students.

Yesterday afternoon at the Normal
and again last evening at the Woman's club Normal students presented very effectively striking selections from the remarkable story, "England to America." It is a story that reminds us how bravely the English "carried on"
in the last great war. It is a remarkable fact that five millions from the mother country and the colonies volunteered for service overseas; many of the bravest and best did not return;
yet there has been no complaining,
so far as we know,—only a high purpose to "carry on." A story,—such as this one,—does much to quicken
and deepen American sympathy for England's glorious part in the war for the preservation of Christian civilization. We, therefore, congratulate the young ladies who so successfully interpreted the beautiful idealism of this splendid story.

The music greatly added to the pleasures of the occasion. At the Normal, Miss Freyberg played with fine feeling the Schubert-Heller arrangement of "The Trout" for the piano; and the students sang with impressive sincerity Kipling's great ode,
"The Recessional." At the Woman's club, Miss Mary Lauren rendered with exquisite touch two selections — an
"Elegie," by Moskowski, and a Russian "Lullaby." Both were received with hearty applause.

man well thought of in his home city.
Special music by the choir. All make an extra effort to be present.

Fire on Columbia Street Last Evening.

The fire department was summoned
to 18 Columbia street at about 7:30
last evening, in response to a telephone alarm. A defective stove pipe had set fire to furnishings in the room, the fire being extinguished before the arrival of the department.
The loss is estimated at about $30.

WARNS AGAINST "RED TERROR"

Dr. Russell Speaking at First Meeting of Presbyterian Men's Club, Outlines Danger to Country in Radical Activities—Enthusiastic Gathering
Auspiciously Opens Winter's Program of Club.

Declaring that the efforts of the radical elements in this country to overthrow the government and existing social order had reached a point
where they could no longer be considered lightly, Rev. Dr. J. C. Russell, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, urged in an address before
the Men's club of the church last evening that the principles of Americanism need to be emphasized more than ever if the country is to be saved from upheaval.

Taking as his subject "The Pillars
of Civilization—Are They in Peril?"
Dr. Russell delivered an illuminating discourse on the "Red" plot to overthrow everything that pertains to organized government. He declared that civilization was founded upon four fundamental principles — the home, school, church and state. The radical element is seeking to inculcate
its principles in all these, he said, and unless prompt action is taken by the law-abiding and clear-thinking citizens of the country, disaster may follow. Citing the fact that the government has 60,000 men and women in the United States listed as having
"Red tendencies," Dr. Russell said that they openly declared their disbelief in God and the church and if they came into power would sweep aside all the principles of right and justice which have come down through the centuries.

After Dr. Russell's address, which was of especial interest to the men in that it urged them to take deep thought of the radical problem, a general discussion of the topic was held,
a majority of the men present voicing
their opinion in an unmistakable
manner that the dangerous propaganda must be combated, preferably
by a campaign of education of the foreigners who come to our country.

At a business session of the club,
the following officers were elected for
the ensuing year:

President—Dr. David H. Mills.
Vice President—J. K. McNeillie.
Secretary—Walter Blend.
Program Committee—Dr. J. C. Russell, F. J. Ives, G. W. Vandegrift, Sheldon H. Close, O. C. Becker and Charles Morris.

Refreshment Committee—A. G.
Russell, Charles Wright, Frank Her-
rieft, Ellery Spencer, Bruce Colburn
and A. M. Butts.

Reception Committee—L. W. Vordermark, Edward Tilley, Richard C.
Hunt, E. H. Dougherty, A. E. Fitz-elle and Fred Larabee.

Invitation Committee—Earl El-
more, Leigh Holley, Charles DeLong, J. W. Barnum and J. M. Silliman.

Late in the evening, a delicious
cafeteria lunch was served to the 60
or more men present and all who indulged in it will vouch for the fact that the ladies who prepared it certainly know how to please the "inner man."

The meeting, which was the first of the 1919-20 season, was conceded a great success and the men are looking forward to a winter's program of much "profit and enjoyment."

A Kindly Gift.

The Salvation Army received a check yesterday to the amount of $19.53 from the locomotive department of the local shops. This amount was returned to that department by the Fourth of July committee and it was voted by the men to present it to the Salvation Army Home Service fund.

Captain Gifford of the Salvation
Army wishes to express his thanks
through these columns, to the men of that department for their thoughtfulness in this matter.

ONEONTA ELKS IN BINGHAMTON.

Large Delegation Declares Event of Tuesday One of Great Enjoyment.
More than a hundred Oneonta Elks
who attended the festivities in Binghamton
on Tuesday returned enthusiastic over the occasion and the hospitality of the Binghamton Elks. The event was easily the most notable in the history of Binghamton Elksdom
and the large class of initiates, numbering over 300, were equally enthusiastic in praise of the excellent work
of the Oneonta degree team under the leadership of Edward M. Ronan, the exalted ruler. The visiting notables,
of whom there were many, complimented the work of the officers of Oneonta lodge highly and those responding to the toasts at the luncheon
which followed the ceremonial.

On arrival in Binghamton the Oneonta delegation was met at the station
by the Elks' band of Binghamton and their own band engaged for the occasion, and escorted to their headquarters at Hotel Bennett. Open house was conducted throughout the entire day at the Elks' home and there the many visitors from many of the cities
and villages nearby were entertained
most hospitably. The parade was held at 7:30 o'clock and Oneonta lodge was given a conspicuous place in the line.
The initiatory work was followed by the presentation of handsome engraved gold card cases to all Binghamton Elks in the service. The luncheon followed, at which prominent Elks responded. The Oneonta Elks remained over night, returning on the morning train.

THE CHURCH IN RUSSIA.

Rector of St. James' Presents New Phases of Eastern Situation.

There was a good attendance last evening at the Municipal hall, where an illustrated lecture on "The Church
in Russia" was given by Rev. R. A.
Forde, rector of St. James' Protestant Episcopal church of this city. While various phases of modern Russian life
and history were presented, the lecture largely had to do with the work
of the Russian and English churches
among the scattered folk inhabiting
the steppes of Siberia. Of these people much of interest was revealed by word and picture, and in conclusion
Mr. Forde gave a thoughtful resume of the terrible Russian situation, its inception and the probable good that will eventually come from much of present evil.

The interest of the address was enhanced by piano solos, in each instance from the best Russian composers and illustrative of the spiritual life of this untalented people, which were admirably rendered by Mrs. Schu-macher.

SUGAR CRISIS IN ONEONTA

Consumers Should Bear in Mind Fact
That Country is Facing Serious Shortage.

"There is no use mincing matters,"
said a well-informed man yesterday,
"Oneonta with the rest of the country
is facing a serious sugar shortage, and it practically depends on the householder, the ultimate consumer,
as to what the outcome will be. Advices from sugar brokers and refiners do not bring much encouragement before the end of the present year. In fact, there appears just one thing to do, and consumers should bear this in mind—they must conserve
the sugar on hand and limit the consumption."

"Possibly there is sugar enough in the city, with the limited amount which later will be received, to last
the year through provided it is used
only in coffee and other household beverages. Or there may be enough to go to January 1 if it is used for pies, cakes and puddings and other goodies, but not for coffee. But there will probably not be enough to last to the middle of December if in one way
or the other consumption is not limited.
We cannot in both directions 'eat
our sugar and have it too.'"

The above statement is submitted to the consideration of housekeepers
of Oneonta, along with the suggestion that it is possible to get through the sugar drought without great discomfort if they will exercise a limited degree of sacrifice and at the same time
use sugar substitutes, such as corn syrup, molasses and the like in the sweetening of bakedstuffs. It is not probable that everybody will be as well pleased with the products as if the pure-white granulated sugar to which they are accustomed were used.
None the less, in such an emergency,
it is a duty which all owe to the community and to the country at large,
to conserve the limited supply on hand. If this is done, there need not be undue anxiety. If it is not, there is sure to be not merely shortage but
an actual sugar famine.

Everybody should bear these facts
in mind. Do you want to go back to the sugar cauld?

DEMONSTRATE DAILY DILLS

Cooking time at Woman's Club 10 a.m. New Culinary Weekends Yesterday Afternoon.

Full 40 members of the Woman's club were present yesterday afternoon at the cooking class demonstration given by Mrs. George J. Dann and Mrs. K. E. Ormiston. In all about a half score of dishes were demonstrated, along with a running fire of explanatory comment which made plain the way even for the wayward woman. Best of all, recipes were in each instance given, and the viands when prepared were apportioned among the members and appreciatively consumed to the last delicious crumb or drop.

The articles demonstrated were grape juice frappe, chocolate ice cream, substitute, apple pie à la mode and chocolate puffs with cream sauce by Mrs. Dann, and chocolate nut cake, cherry cake, coconut spice cake, marshmallow icing and gelatin icing by Mrs. Ormiston. The following are three recipes selected from others as good:

Cherry Cake.

Half cup shortening, 1 cup sugar, 2 eggs, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, ¼ teaspoon salt, ½ cup milk, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 2 cups flour, 1 cup canned cherries from which the juice has been drained. Blend in order given, bake in two layers and join with white icing.

Chocolate Ice Cream Substitute.

Two level tablespoonfuls cocoa, one-third cup boiling water, 3 level tablespoons gelatin dissolved in one-third cup cold water, two-thirds cup sugar, teaspoon vanilla, a little salt, 1 cup heavy cream and ½ cup thin cream or top milk. Dissolve cocoa in boiling water, add sugar, and dissolved gelatin, stir and let cool. When it begins to thicken add cream beaten light, but not dry, turn in mold and chill.

Chocolate Puffs.

1 cup sour milk, 1 cup sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, 3 level tablespoons cocoa, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 2 tablespoonfuls butter substitute, 1 teaspoonful soda, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1½ cups flour. Dissolve soda in milk, add sugar, sift baking powder, salt, cocoa and flour together, add to mixture, stir in melted fat. Steam half hour in individual cups. Serve with whipped cream or hard sauce.

Sauce—Beat one-third cup butter to a cream; gradually beat in 1 cup light brown sugar; when light and creamy beat in gradually 2 tablespoons cream and 1 teaspoonful vanilla.

Home Bargain.

MARRIAGES

Sitts-Hall.

The marriage of Miss Vesta May Hall, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl L. Hall, to John A. Sitts of this city, was solemnized at 8:40 o'clock yesterday morning at the home of the bride's parents on South Side. Rev. Dr. B. M. Johns of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Oneonta officiated and only the immediate family was present. Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Sitts departed by auto for a ten days' trip to New York city, Mr. and Mrs. Hall accompanying them as far as Albany. On their return they will reside in apartments already prepared for them in the Keyes block at the corner of Main and Elm streets. The wedding dress of the bride was her going-away gown of blue silk tulle.

The bride is a graduate of the Oneonta High school and of the Pose Normal School of Gymnastics in Boston, Mass. Later she taught in Porto Rico and in the schools of Tacoma, Wash., but for the past two years has been employed in the Delaware & Hudson accounts' office in Oneonta. She is a young lady of fine attainments and few, if any, young women of the city have a wider circle of friends.

The groom is a native of Richfield Springs and a graduate of the High school in that village. Practically all his active business life he has been in the auto business, for several years in New York city and afterwards for five years in Oneonta. During the world war he was engaged in the machine gun service overseas, and was wounded at Ronnoy, September 28, 1918, and was invalided home. He arrived in New York December last and was mustered out in January, 1919. Returning to Oneonta, he resumed his duties, interrupted by the war, in the Bulck salesrooms of R. W. Hume on Wall street. Mr. Sitts is president of the Oneonta chapter of the American Legion, and is a very popular member of the order of Elks. He is a most efficient and courteous salesman and his circle of friends is as great as the widely extended one of his acquaintance.

To Mr. and Mrs. Sitts the heartfelt congratulations and best wishes of all will be extended.

PROF. H. CLAUDE HARDY WEDS.

His bride Miss Shirley Frances Newton, Talented Musician of Sidney.

Prof. H. Claude Hardy, supervising principal of the public schools of Sidney and Miss Shirley Frances Newton, also of Sidney, were united in marriage at 4 o'clock, Wednesday afternoon at the First Methodist parsonage by his long-time friend, Rev. B. M. Johns, both being graduates alike of Wyoming seminary at Kingston, Pa., and of Wesleyan university at Middletown, Conn.

The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. James Hard of Sidney and Mrs. Effie Newton, mother of the bride. The double ring service was used. The bride was married in a traveling suit of blue with hat to match and carried a bouquet of bride's roses.

Prof. Hardy is one of the best known school men of the Susquehanna Valley. He was for several years principal of the Schenectady high school before going to Sidney and has been very successful in both positions. He has spoken on several occasions from the pulpit of the First Methodist church for the J. S. Smith & Sons and has been a member of the board of trustees of the First Methodist church since its organization. He has recently given instruction in both vocal and instrumental music in Sidney. The best wishes of a wide circle of friends will be theirs hereafter. The bride's home awaited them.

FUNERALS.

Mrs. Charles Smith.

The funeral of Mrs. Charles Smith, a former resident of this city whose death occurred at Schenectady Monday morning from hardening of the arteries, was held yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock from her home in Schenectady. The Rev. Dr. E. J. Farley officiated.

Mrs. Smith was held in high esteem by all who knew her in this city, all of whom will regret to hear of her death. She is survived by her husband and seven children, two of whom are residents of this city, Mrs. Robert Slavin and Oswald Smith. Timothy Smith of this city is a brother-in-law of the deceased. Among the friends attending from this city were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lake.

Crowds flocking to foot demonstration.

That the public is taking a great deal of interest in the demonstration of modern foot comfort methods, which is being staged this week at the Hurd Boot shop is amply proven by the crowds that are surging in and out of that store each day.

The demonstration is being conducted, as an educational measure, by the graduate Practiced Foot expert whom that store employs to look after the foot comfort of its patrons. He examines the feet of those who come to him and advises them without charge, pointing out and demonstrating the way in which modern appliances will correct the defects that cause discomfort. Hence, the large crowds. advt 1t

DEATHS.

Edwin E. Gray.

Mrs. C. M. Radcliffe, 7 Hill place, who had been notified of the sudden and serious illness of her father, Edwin E. Gray, of New Berlin, left Friday for that town. Monday morning Mr. Gray died at his home of acute indigestion, after being ill but a few days.

Mr. Gray was born July 1, 1845, at Pittsfield, Otsego county, the son of Joseph and Mary Gray. He was married at Pittsfield in 1866 to Mary C. Dart. He was a lifelong resident of New Berlin and was employed for 45 years by the O. & W. as section foreman. Mr. Gray attended the Presbyterian church and was a member of the O. & W. Brotherhood. He is survived by four daughters. Mrs. C. M. Radcliffe of Oneonta, Mrs. S. S. Paddock, 43 Fairview street, Mrs. Ellis Walker of New Berlin and Mrs. Cora Holdridge of New Berlin, and one son, Charles Gray of New Berlin.

The funeral will be held at his home in New Berlin Thursday at 3 o'clock and burial will be at Fairview cemetery, New Berlin. The Rev. F. E. Perkins of the Presbyterian church of that town will probably officiate.

Former Theatre Manager Promoted

George L. Roberts, former manager of the Oneonta theatre, has been appointed general manager of the Hathaway chain of theatres, with general offices at Middletown. Mr. Roberts was in this city yesterday calling on Mr. Moore, the manager of the local theatre, and left last evening for Elmira. Mr. Roberts' many friends in this city will wish him success in his new position.

Corticelli Yarn

CORTICELLI KNITOLA Fingering yarn is very soft and pliable, yet its long staple prevents it from stretching after the garment has been used for a time. It will not grow harsh from repeated washings, and lends itself to all knitting where durability, firmness, and this soft texture is desired. It should be used for sweaters, stockings, helmets, automobile cape and bonnets, scarfs, wristlets, afghans, soldier's wear, and in fact, in THE yarn for general use.

Corns 'Tween Toes? Use Easy "Geta-It"

Any Corn or Callus Comes Off Peacefully, Gloriously. Never Pains. It is easy for "Geta-It" to reach "hard-to-get-at" corns, and better yet, it is easy to remove them. Because "Geta-It" makes them come

Any Corn Pops Off With "Geta-It."

Right off just like a banana peel. You can try to dig or drag out your corn with a "bloody" razor, or use bandages and tape and wrap up your foot into a package, but that's the "great-est-rough" painful, foolish way. Use 3 or 4 drops of "Geta-It"—that's the peaceful, sure, common-sense way that never fails. You reach the corn easily with the little glass rod in the cork of every "Geta-It" bottle. It does not hurt the true flesh. Try it, trot and smile! It's a blessing: never fails. "Geta-It," the only sure, guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, costs but a trifle at any drug store. Mfg. by M. FIND BONES OF 32-FOOT GIANT

Natives of Mexican Village Who Cling to Ancient Traditions, Guard Remains as Sacred.

Mexico City.—The fossilized remains of a giant measuring 32 feet 10 inches in height were, according to report, recently discovered by workmen near the little village of Nancamilpa, state of Vera Cruz.

The natives, who still cling to many of the traditions of their Indian ancestors, declared the giant was related to the gods of their forefathers. They erected a catafalque in the plaza, on which the giant rested in state for many days, covered with flowers and at night carefully guarded.

The discovery attracted the attention of scientists here. Manuel Gamio, director of anthropology at the National museum, expects to leave soon for Nancamilpa to investigate. He is inclined to believe the fossil is that of a prehistoric vertebrate not human.

The First Cup and Lancer.

The beverages of the sixteen century were water, mead, sack and ale. In the middle of the next century tea was introduced, and with it came the Chinese "or china" teacup. The handle of the cup came from Mediterranean lands. Originally it was made of thick and strong earthenware and applied to heavy jars and lamps.

AMERICANS HELP HUNGRY AND ILL

Unbelievable Conditions Found in Territory East of River Bug.

DISEASE AND HUNGER STAY

Red Cross and Jewish Relief Committee Working Hand in Hand to Help Sufferers—Fresh Clothing Dire Need.

New York.—The River Bug, which served until recently as a boundary of the bolshevik fighting, is today a boundary of another kind.

Its eastern shore bounds on one side the hungriest and most diseased and the most stricken territory in the world today. Five million people are at the point of starvation east of the River Bug, according to figures given out by the American Jewish Relief committee and compiled by the American Red Cross and American Jewish Relief agents. A great number of them are Jews. The war has left 6,000,000 destitute and stricken Jews in Eastern Europe utterly helpless in many cases ill, in every case hungry and dependent.

East of the River Bug these people are living in devastated houses, in stalls of old stables, on roofless platforms built for refugee families, one family to a platform, in old freight cars, in holes in the ground or under the open sky. They are weak from many months of semi starvation, for they have gone for five years without one square meal. They are still terror-stricken from the war. Their number is being reduced every day by a series of the most terrible epidemics that ever swept any section of the world.

Typhus, Cholera and Smallpox.

Typhus, cholera and smallpox are all raging in the territory east of the River Bug. The first and most general of these epidemics is carried simply by body lice. At least one member out of every fifth or sixth family is stricken with some form of it, as is inevitable among a people clad in five-year-old rags, people who have not had a bath with soap or a change of clothing since the beginning of the war. No estimate of the actual number of those smitten with typhus in Poland has yet been compiled, but it probably is greater than in Siberia where the American Red Cross found 100,000 cases.

Dirt and malnutrition are the two great causes of the epidemic of disease. All through Poland may be found children eight or ten years old no larger than youngsters half their age ordinarily are. Two out of three infants do not survive their first year of life. The average child in the territory east of the Bug river has never tasted milk, even mother's milk. American Red Cross investigators say that an abnormal number of children are born blind because of the malnutrition of their mothers. American Jewish Relief investigators discovered a new eye disease that had attacked thousands of children, beginning with constant blinking and ending in total blindness, resulting when long continued starvation had affected the muscles of the eye.

So the great expanse of "the department of the East," which sounds like any other part of the map to the people of the United States, is a wilderness of horror and desolation to the American workers in Poland who are familiar with the unbelievable suffering there. In the battle against disease and starvation which is going on in the territory east of the Bug river, the American Red Cross is fighting the former, with medicines and physicians and nurses and attempts toward cleanliness, while the American Jewish Relief workers have entered the lists against hunger with soup kitchens and milk stations, and Children's Relief bureaus, established here and there, all through the vast stretch of territory.

Fresh Clothing the Dire Need.

If all the people in the territory east of the Bug river could be fed properly at once, disease would soon disappear, physicians in the afflicted region say. If they could replace the rags which they have worn since the beginning of the war with fresh clothing the epidemics would cease to spread. If their living places could be made habitable and clean, it would no longer be as it is today the most desolate expanse of land in the world. It is toward this end that the two great organizations, one of Gentiles and the other of Jews, are working hand in hand, difference of creed forgotten, in the great practical need that they face.

The Red Cross personnel has been trebled in the last few weeks in this district. American Jewish Relief agencies are feeding hundreds of children there.

Getting Acquainted With America.

The United States has been setting the greatest advertising during the last two years that any nation has ever received, and the results of this should be reaped in foreign trade. Just as any merchant obtained custom from an advertising campaign.

Since the beginning of the war there has been a steady stream of foreign missions on tour in the United States, headed by men of prominence in their respective countries. They have visited the shipyards, the steel mills, the camps and the industrial cities, and they have seen the miles of fertile farm lands and gained a new conception of the vastness of America and its ability to put over big things on a big scale. A convention of the League of Nations in Washington will add still more to this world knowledge of America's resources. The chief thing now to be sought is the holding of the advantage gained.—Forbes Magazine.

ALPS HAD THEIR REVENGE

Famous Airman Who Had Defied Great Mountains at Last Meets His Death There.

Few of the men who have given their lives to the air have met a more impressive end than the handsome, golden-haired young Captain Natali Palli. He was the favorite pilot during the war of Maj. Gabriel d'Annunzio, the Italian poet who became one of the greatest airmen.

Palli evidently had motor trouble when right over the Alps. With extraordinary skill he landed his machine on a glacier 9,000 feet high. Getting out of it unhurt, he started to climb down the mountain side. A snowstorm soon set in around him, but on he plodded through the soundless drifts toward the little village of Bourc St. Moritz, in the valley below. For a whole day at least he stumbled forward, without food and pierced by the bitter cold.

Then, when he was 200 yards from a mountain hut, and within sight of the Alpine village, his strength gave out and he sank down into the snow. His courage urged him to another effort; the snow was found with the marks of his struggles to rise again.

But he could do no more, and there, two days later, a passing peasant found the gallant young Italian pilot lying with his head on his arm as if asleep, half-covered by the snow, and without a bruise on his body.

So did the Alps which he had conquered revenge themselves upon Natali Palli, who had escaped death in 140 raids over the enemy lines in war.

$750 Pearl in Clam.

Albany, Ore.—A pearl, probably worth $750, was found grown to the interior of one of the sides of a large Uno clam, picked up by J. G. Crawford recently in Bryant's Park. Mr. Crawford found the clam in the willow bushes about 200 yards from the point of junction between the Calapoola and Willamette rivers. The Uno clam measures 12 millimeters in length, 4½ millimeters in width, and the pearl was 3 millimeters long, 2 millimeters wide and ½ millimeter high.

JOINT MEETING AT DELHI

Delaware County Farm Bureau and Home Bureau Association held joint session Tuesday, Nov. 19. — A joint annual meeting of the Farm and Home Bureaus was held at the opera house Tuesday morning and afternoon. The meeting was called by H. C. McKenzle, county agent, and the address of welcome given by Prof. E. O. Harkness and the response by Mr. McKenzle. The forenoon was taken up by a business session, at which were read by various officers of the bureaus. Treasurer's report by F. W. Mann, secretary's report by A. W. Mann, manager's report by E. G. Harkness, county league work by B. J. Patrick, state school by Prof. DuBois, Farm Bureau organization by F. E. Robertson.

Home Bureau held a business session at the court house during the afternoon at which reports of agents given and addresses made by Axtell, Mrs. W. C. Fisher, Mrs. Brigidon and Miss Caroline Mortimer. Miss Elizabeth McDaniel, chairman, Home Bureau, led. At the noon hour a basket luncheon and social was held at the house, coffee was served by the Economics department, state afternoon session opened with a song led by C. W. Whitney of the York State College of agriculture. A board of directors was elected who in turn will elect the officers of the bureau for the coming year. Addresses were made by Mrs. A. E. En, president Home Bureau federation on "Home Making a Business" and a representative of the Federal Reserve bank made a very timely address on the subject of "Thrift."

I. W. Collingwood, editor of the New Yorker, took for his subject "The Farmer's Relation to the State." The closing session held at the court house in the evening and the exercises were somewhat informal, consisting of a comedy skit led by W. C. Whitney, an address by F. E. Robertson, assistant county agent. During the skit Mr. Whitney rendered several songs in a most pleasing and yet a manner. Many persons in attendance at these meetings who were directly interested in these meetings the work of the Farm Bureau greatly pleased to find genuine comradeship cropping out in all the lines and such sentiments received generous applause from the audience of farmers present.

It not be that the County Farm Bureau, which are now federated in the association and the state association again federated in a National Federation, covering practically all areas of the union become a bulwark of defense against the greed of the one side and the unrealistic demands of dreamers, the unrealistic demands of unions and the worse pest the professional or on the other? The budget at and of the Farm Bureau and Bureau is as follows: $600 from federal government, $600 from state, $5,100 provided by the donors at their present session $3,500 from membership fees, a total of $9,800.

Supervisors at Committee Work. — Short sessions of the board of supervisors have been held, frequent meetings being in order that the committees may have opportunity to complete their work and present their reports for presentation to board, this program has been followed for the past two days.

Personal. — To Mr. and Mrs. Frederick D. of Farmingdale, Long Island, daughter, Barbara Ellen, on November 15. The mother will be remembered as Miss Constance Badger, nee Lynch and little son of 10 months, Rhode Island, are spending a few days with his sister, Mrs. Beth Hume. — Dunham Jones of Ill. is visiting at the home of Edgewood. Mr. Dunham will be remembered as a brother of Mrs. G. Grout, who was a former resident here. — Miss Lena Schiefer, who taken a position in the store of Mr. Dick & Walker at Binghamton Tuesday for that place, accompanied by her mother. — Mrs. Gilbert is substituting at the school for Miss Robinson, who been on the sick list for the past weeks.

WE HEED, YE MOTORISTS:

You See a "Road Closed" Sign. It Means What It Says.

Delhi, Nov. 19.—Three or four motorists have been brought to a halt by a "road closed" sign which was set up at the Brook road, where the commissioner of Kortright is engaged in a mile of stone road. The road was through a field which had made almost impassable and the automobiles were stalled in the mud and had to be driven out of the mud. A few bold motorists, therefore, ventured to drive the highway where work was in progress, doing the highway work-rate, considerable damage to the completed work. It is reported that some of the car drivers threaten legal action from the justice's decision.

It Was Only Bird Shot.

While hunting with several other men in the woods near here, Campbell, an employee in the hotel Creamery, was hit by bird shot which one of the other hunters had fired. The charge was not in the back, but a serious injury. Had a heavier kind of shot been used he would doubtless have been seriously wounded.

SIDNEY CENTER NEWS.

William Manzer Passes Suddenly from Heart Disease and Complications.

Sidney Center, Nov. 19. — William Manzer died suddenly last Wednesday night from heart trouble and complications. He had been in failing health for some time, but was able to be about and was in town on Wednesday. In the morning he was found dead on the floor of his room, having passed away some time during the night. His funeral was held Saturday afternoon from his home, Rev. A. H. Landmesser officiating. Burial was given in Highland cemetery. Mr. Manzer was a native of Cooperstown, having been born there 70 years ago. He was united in marriage to Miss Nellie Dunshee of this place about 12 years ago and settled on a farm near Bainbridge. For the past three years they have lived on a small farm near this village. He is survived by his wife and a few distant relatives.

Farmer Loses Team.

North Kortright, Nov. 19.—William D. Shaver, a hard working, industrious farmer of this community, who several years ago purchased the Robert Humphrey place, met with a severe loss Friday. He was working in the woods with his team, getting out logs, when the tree that he was cutting fell in the opposite direction from where he expected it would and struck both of his horses, which he thought were far enough away to be out of danger, killing one and injuring the other so seriously that the suffering animal was shot to end its misery. Much sympathy is felt for Mr. Shaver in his misfortune.

DAVENPORT AND VICINITY.

Mrs. Mary Parris Passes Away—S. F. Snyder Home From Hunting Trip.

Davenport, Nov. 19.—Mary Parris, widow of Davis Parris, died at her home two miles east of this village Monday evening at 6 o'clock at the advanced age of 76 years. The cause of death was pneumonia. The funeral services were held at her late home Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. R. L. Cornell, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, officiated and burial was at Butts Cemetery, near her home. Mrs. Parris is survived by four sons by a former marriage, Charles Oles of Cobleskill, George of East Meredith, and Edward and Bert, who reside at home. She had many friends here who will mourn her death.

Returns From Hunting Trip.

S. F. Snyder returned Monday afternoon from Merrowold, Sullivan county, where he has been spending a week hunting. Mr. Snyder brought home a four-point buck which will dress at about 175 pounds. He was one of a party of 11 hunters, all of whom succeeded in bringing down a deer, the largest one weighing 211

MANY REPORTS PRESENTED

Board of Supervisors Occupied with Transaction of Routine Business—Committee Urges Equalization of Assessments in Different Towns of County.

Cooperstown, Nov. 19. — Report No. 1 of the committee on Equalization was submitted at this morning's session of the Board of Supervisors. This is the report establishing the percentages which the assessed valuation bears to the actual valuation in the various towns, and has sometimes in other years been the cause of much controversy. The report was adopted this year without a dissenting vote among the 25 members present. Messrs. Goodell of Worcester and Sheridan of Richfield were absent. The report is as follows:

"Your committee on equalization reports that they have examined the assessment rolls of the several tax districts in the county of Otsego for the purpose of ascertaining whether the valuation in one tax district bears a just relation to the valuation in all the tax districts in the county; that in the opinion of the members of the committee such valuations do not bear such just relation to the valuation in all the tax districts in the county and your committee would recommend that the valuation of the several tax districts, in order that they may bear such just relation be increased or diminished according to the following percentage which the assessed value of the real property in each tax district bears to its full value, and that the same be established by this board, as follows:

Burlington 74, Butternuts 73, Cherry Valley 74, Decatur 81, Edmeston 79, Exeter 76, Hartwick 79, Laurens 76, Maryland 78, Middlefield 78, Milford 76, Morris 78, New Lisbon 79, Oneonta Town 69, Oneonta City 70, Otsego 70, Otsego 77, Pittsfield 74, Plainfield 79, Richfield 72, Roseboom 80, Springfield 78, Unadilla 79, Westford 80, Worcester 75."

A supplementary report was received from Coroner George A. Sloan of Worcester and referred to the Committee on Coroners. A report was also received from Coroner Henry A. Ward of Richfield Springs.

Petitions to levy taxes for town expenses were received from the town boards of Middlefield, Roseboom and Richfield.

County Clerk William I. Smith submitted a report of the sums received in fines during the current year.

The annual report of County Treasurer B. G. Johnson was read and referred to the committee on finance.

The report of the committee on grand jurors, containing the names of 300 men qualified to act as grand jurors, was read by the clerk, accepted and ordered printed in the minutes.

A resolution was introduced by Mr. Williams appropriating the sum of $150, for the purpose of paying postage, express and other expenses incidental to the office of the commissioners of election. The resolution was adopted.

Messrs. Williams and Fitch offered a resolution that the motor vehicle funds now in the hands of the county treasurer, amounting to $17,884, be allotted to the several towns in the county in the proportion that the total highway mileage of each town bears to the total highway mileage of the county. Upon motion of Mr. Whipple this resolution was made a special order for December 2d, at 2 o'clock, p. m.

The resolution is in the same form as that passed by the board last year and which was criticized by some members as not being strictly in accordance with the intent of the law. It was contended at that time that the intent of the highway law was that the funds should be used in improving some one section of road and not divided up and distributed among all the towns, without producing any tangible and visible results.

Mr. Shaw brought up the question as to the continuance of the home defense committee of the county and asked if there was any further necessity for maintaining it. No one offered any reason for its continuance and Mr. Shaw said that he would bring the matter before the board in another form at a later date.

HERE TUESDAY NEXT

Charles Harrison, Famous Tenor, in Elks' Musical Course.

Charles Harrison, the famous American tenor, is to appear at the Oneonta theatre on Tuesday evening, in the second entertainment of the Elks' course.

Speaking of him a writer says: "Mr. Harrison is an American born, American trained, and American accomplished singer of the very highest attainments. This is a voice of the heroic qualities, natural beauty, and individuality. There is not the slightest degree of artificiality suggested in his voice or manner. His voice grew, bloomed, and smiles upon the world as do the flowers in the field. One can but think when listening to this marvelous singer, 'this voice simply grew. There is not a note of the 'made' singer in him.'"

INSERT CUT

Guaranteed Attraction Nov. 21 and 22. To our patrons:

If you will think back, it is our belief that you can not recall at any time we guaranteed an attraction or picture that it was not all we claimed and a little more; we try to give you the best and believe we are successful.

Friday and Saturday, November 21 and 22, we offer "Yankee Doodle in Berlin," a six-reel Mack Sennet comedy, together with Mack Sennet's Bathing Girls, and as an extra special added feature we offer Guy Trevelyan, the champion swimmer and diver, together with his diving girls, and the famous performing seal, Tippi, direct from the Mack Sennet studios, California, an act that is really worth the price of admission alone. This is positively the No. 1 company and the same that appeared at the B. S. Moos Broadway theatre, New York. In the Northern New York towns this same attraction appeared at $1.50 prices. See our display advertisement in The Star and note our prices. Our guarantee goes with every ticket with this attraction.

Don't Be Bald

How to Make Hair Grow Strong, Thick and Lustrous.

Few of us get bald in a day and we all have some warning when our hair is thinning out. Farlan sage is a most efficient hair invigorator, but to quickly stop any further loss of hair and promote a new growth it must be rubbed into the scalp so the starved hair roots can really absorb it and get the vital stimulation so badly needed.

You will surely be delighted with the first application, for your hair and scalp should look and feel 100 per cent. better. Farlan sage is not expensive. It's a scientific preparation that supplies hair needs—a clean, non-sticky, anti-septic fluid that is sold by Geo. S. Steele and at good drug stores everywhere with guarantee to give you perfect satisfaction or money refunded.

Good looking hair is half the battle in any man's or woman's personal appearance. Neglect means dull, thin, lifeless hair and finally baldness. With a little attention now should insure thick and lustrous hair for years to come.

No matter what your hair troubles try a Farlan sage massage tonight—you will not be disappointed.

SUPERVISORS ENTERTAINED.

Chairman and Mrs. Eckert Give Them Dinner at Pleasant Bloomville Home.

Delhi, Nov. 19. — Chairman Eckert, of the county board of supervisors, and his wife, entertained at dinner tonight the members of the board and other county officials at their home in Bloomville. Upon the invitation of Mr. Eckert, all members of the board, county officials of high and low degree, supplemented by Ex-Sheriff Austin and Supervisor-Elect Leonard Smith of Kortright, wended their way from Delhi up the valley to the comfortable and spacious home of the Eckerts at Bloomville. The verbal invitation extended was, "Come up to an old-fashioned turkey dinner." It was all this, and then some.

The house was profusely decorated with chrysanthemums and the tables with white carnations and similar. We will not attempt to give the meal, but will only say that it was great from soup to coffee and cigars.

The guests, between 30 and 40 strong, did not bother themselves about any complications which might arise with Korea, Armenia or Siberia, but in true American style declared war on Turkey.

With the dinner over, reminiscences, stories and songs filled out the evening. The parting guests observed the formalities of leave-taking by declaring that they had had a splendid evening and a splendid dinner.

It will be H-O—

—if you leave the choice to me!"

"I can tell whether it's H-O—or just ordinary 'rolled oats'—before mother sets the dish on the table.

"Cause H-O looks 'heapier' and flakier and tastier.

"I can even tell H-O when I have my eyes shut—

"Because H-O smells just the way it tastes—'kinda' toasty and different and nicer in every way.

"And when I eat H-O for breakfast, I don't get hungry before lunch-time."

The ideal Oat-Food for Children

Double toasting over coal fires is the secret of H-O's deliciousness.

Each oat-kernel is toasted for hours till it turns a golden brown.

The result is a toasty taste that children and grown-ups love.

It's the steam-cooking and double-toasting that make H-O the tastiest and most digestible of all oat-foods.

Super-heated steam, under pressure, bursts the walls of each tiny starch cell and sets free the rich nourishment without destroying the natural flavor.

Endless hours of ordinary cooking could not make ordinary rolled oats as digestible and delicious, as light and flaky.

Try H-O for breakfast tomorrow morning!

H-O

The steam-cooked and double-toasted oat-food

These 65 processes are the secret of H-O's flavor and food value . . .

1. Preliminary selection of oats—All but highest grades refused.
2. Of these high-grade oats, only the best are selected—chosen as to weight, color, strength and quality.
3. Selected oats go through receiving separator. Light chaff and dust blown out by air blast.
4. Additional cleaning by sieve.
5. Cleaned by air suction on way to elevator.
6. In elevator—another cleaning process.
7. Through "air separator," where air-blast cleans them again.
8. Again refined over 1/32" sieve.
9. Another sieving over 1/16" mesh.
10. Cleaned again over 1/32" sieve.
11. Another purification by air-blast.
12. Further cleaning by air-blast.
13. Again cleaned over 1/32" sieve.
14. Further refined over 1/16" mesh.
15. Cleaned again over 1/32" sieve.
16. Fine dust removed by 1/64" sieve.
17. 1/64" sieve removes finest dust.
18. Air-blast cleanses again.
19. Another air-blast cleansing.
20. Cleaned again over 1/8" sieve.
21. Another 1/8" sieve purifies further.
22. Final sieving (1/32" sieve).
23. Accepted again by air blast.
24. Weighed in allotted cylinder (60 lbs. 1/100) to remove "light" oats.
25. Operation repeated 55 times more "double" oats.
26. Rejected again to remove foreign grains (wheat or barley).
27. Selection of oats now perfect for milling.
28. Grains removed in "gravity separator."
29. Gravity belt grader removes foreign grain.
30. Another gravity belt grader.
31. Oats placed in Dry Kiln over hot "kitchen" coal fire.
32. Accepted in Dry Kiln (temperature 600°) 4 to 6 hours to bring out flavor.
33. Accepted in Dry Kiln by revolving paddles to toast evenly.
34. Air blast removes dust created by toasting in Dry Kiln.
35. Cleaned by air blast.
36. Further aeration by air blast.
37. Another purifying air-blast.
38. Still another air-blast cleansing.
39. Air-blast removes last particles of dust.
40. Steel belt grader separates long, medium and short oats (each size milled separately).
41. Perfect oats go to hulling machine.
42. Holes of hulls removed between stones revolving 200 R. P. M.
43. Weighed in "Hexagon Reel" covered with wire cloth to remove fine material.
44. Air-blast removes remaining hulls.
45. Additional air-blast to remove dust from milling.
46. Another cleaning by sieve.
47. Smaller sieve cleans further.
48. Still another sieve perfects cleaning.
49. Another air-blast to remove dust.
50. Gravity machine removes few unshelled oats.
51. Second gravity machine for same purpose.
52. Third gravity machine removes last trace of unshelled oats.
53. Unshelled oats sent back to hulling machine.
54. Remaining perfect oat-kernels automatically weighed.
55. Into steam cooker.
56. Live steam under 15 lbs. pressure explodes every starch cell.
57. Toasted by hot air (600°) from "kitchen" coal furnace.
58. Cooled by air-blast.
59. Quick clean both to toast (soften) oats.
60. Rolled into dairy flakes between steel rollers.
61. Dried in heated air-blast.
62. Automatically weighed.
63. Automatically placed in box.
64. Box automatically sealed.
65. Sealed boxes dried and sterilized in oven at 450°.

*Steam-cooked.
